Attention is called to the story in this issue by County Agent Harwell about bugs and worms.

According to this, bugs and worms are a pretty expensive luxury for the farmers of this county. Every farmer should read and ponder his statements carefully. In all the older farming sections of the country insect pests are a yearly problem, and it is coming to the point in this county where they must be reckoned with and fought systematically. The sooner this fact is recognized and acted upon the less the loss will be. Mr. Harwell is doing an inestimable service to the farmers of the county in pointing the way to wage an effective war on these pests.

Rev. R. E. Farley of Mountair was here Tuesday visiting Rev. J. A. Bretz.

Rev. J. A. Bretz will preach in McIntosh next Sunday forenoon at 11 o'clock.

Bean threshers came in yesterday for Milbourn & Sons, F. T. Meadows and J. R. Beck. When all these machines get busy with Pace's two big machines, the beans will roll out lively.

The big bean thresher ordered by Walter Pace came in yesterday, with a big tractor. This machine has a capacity of thirty to fifty thousand pounds per day. It is not yet being unloaded owing to a question of freight overcharge.

Gus Dunn has sold his farm northeast of Manzano to Walter Martin, and will go back to Texas, planning to go back to Mexico eventually. He lived south of the Rio Grande in Coahuila thirty years. It is too cold with too much snow here to suit him. His bean crop, which has been mentioned before, was a good one. On 38 acres he got 1450 pounds to the acre. The entire 80 acres yielded 84,000 pounds.

COMMISSIONERS PROCEEDINGS

At the regular meeting of the county commissioners held October 3rd, the commissioners declined to grant Guy Beedle permission to fence and maintain gates in Township 2 between sections 10 and 11, and he was ordered to open said lines.

N. C. Welsh represented to the board that certain section lines in ranges 10 and 11 as established by the county surveyor are in conflict with lines established by officials of the Lincoln National Forest, and asks that they be made to conform or that a job be made to include his improvements in the land where he has a grazing permit. After consulting with the surveyor the board finds that his lines are correct and declines to take action.

In the matter of the claim of Willie Elgin wherein he has brought suit to recover monies paid by him for tax certificates which have been cancelled by the district court, the board recommends to the court that said monies be refunded and that the court fix the matter of interest and order a special levy to be made to raise funds for payment.

In the matter of the Willard-Mountainair road across sections 2 and 6 T. 4 R. 8. Attorney Fred H. Ayers moves that the board rescind former action, as there is a road on both sides along section lines, no damages have been awarded for use of lands, no petition filed, and law not complied with. Board rescinded action and declared road closed through said sections and road declared open along section lines.

COLT SHOW AT ESTANCIA

On Saturday, October 30, there will be given by W. W. Wagner for each and every colt sired by his imported German coach stallion "Sapho" that is brought in that can be led and shown on the street a good, strong leather halter, and in addition will give $15.00 premium for best colt shown, $10.00 for second, $7.50 for third, $5.00 for fourth and $2.50 for fifth, premiums to be paid in service next season.

We want everybody to bring their colts that can, and hope to all get some good out of this show. We have the promise of C. W. Bowers, of the firm of Ruby & Bowers of Davis, California, who has had twenty years experience in buying and selling good horses throughout both the United States and Europe, to be with us and act as judge in this show and give us pointers as to how to choose colts that will make high priced horses in the markets of the world.

Everybody come that admires a good horse and let us make it a profitable day.—W. W. Wagner.

OBITUARY

George W. Torrance was born near Springfield, Illinois, March 27, 1868, and died at the hospital in Santa Fe, October 8, 1916, being 48 years, six months and 11 days old.

When a child his parents went to Missouri and from there he went to Kansas, where he lived until he came to New Mexico about 1906.

He had been in poor health for some time, but so bravely bore his suffering that few realized his condition was serious.

On Thursday before his death, he went to St. Vincent's Sanatorium in Santa Fe, and on Saturday his family received word to come at once. They remained with him until his death and accompanied the remains to their home at McIntosh on Monday following.

In 1896 he was married to Miss Hannah Small. To this union two children were born—Everett and Clara.

His cheerful disposition won him many friends, and he was an especial favorite among the young people.

In early life he became a Christian, and in his last days his thoughts turned to God and found comfort and peace there.

The funeral service was conducted by W. S. Buckner at 2 P. M. on Tuesday, and the remains were laid to rest in the McIntosh cemetery. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers sent by friends.

Mrs. Torrance and children have the sympathy of the entire community.
